| The snake was more crafty than any of the wild animals God had made | The snake said to the woman, ‘Did God really say, “You must not eat from any tree in the garden”?’ | The woman said to the snake, ‘We may eat fruit from the trees in the garden...’ |
| The woman continued, ‘...but God did say, “You must not eat fruit from the tree that is in the middle of the garden, and you must not touch it, or you will die.”’ | ‘You will not certainly die,’ the snake said to the woman. ‘God knows that when you eat from it your eyes will be opened, and you will be like God, knowing good and evil.’ | When the woman saw that the fruit of the tree was good for food and pleasing to the eye, and also desirable for gaining wisdom, she took some and ate it. |
| She also gave some to her husband, who was with her, and he ate it. | Then the eyes of both of them were opened, and they realised that they were naked. | So they sewed fig leaves together and made coverings for themselves. |
